CITY OF PASIG TAKEN

By Wheaton's Brigade After an Hour's Fight With the Rebels.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BATTLE

A Small Body of Filipinos Make a Determined Stand at Guadalupe Church; Gusbus Pours a Terrible Fire Into the Brush.

Manilla, March 13.—At daylight Brigadier General Lloyd Wheaton's divisional brigade, consisting of the Twentieth United States infantry, the Twenty-second Infantry, eight companies of the Washington volunteers, seven companies of the Oregon volunteers, three troops of the Fourth United States cavalry and a mounted battery of the Sixth artillery, was drawn up on a ridge behind San Pedro Macati, a mile south of the town.

The advance was sounded at 6:30 a.m., the cavalry leading the column at a smart trot, across the open to the right, eventually reaching a clump commanding the rear of Guadalupe.

Supported by the Oregon volunteers, the advance force opened a heavy fire on the rebels. The response was feeble and desultory, apparently coming from handfuls of men in every covert.

While the right column was swinging toward the town of Pasig, the left advanced, pouring volleys into the brush.

A small body of rebels made a determined stand at Guadalupe church, but the enemy was unable to withstand the assault.

At 7:30 a.m. a river gunboat started toward Pasig. The rebels were first encountered by this vessel in the jungle near Guadalupe; steaming slowly, the gunboat poured a terrible fire from her Gatling guns into the brush. For all of an hour, the whirring of the rapid-fire guns alternated with the booming of the heavier pieces on board.

In the meantime, Scott's battery ashore was shelling the trenches and driving the enemy back. The artillery then advanced to the ridge of bamboo and drove a few of the enemy's sharpshooters away with volleys from their carbines. The artillery then advanced and met with little opposition.

In the meantime the infantry had been sent forward in extended order, the Washington regiment resting on the bank of the river, each regiment deploying on reaching its station and occupying its own supports.

The entire column then wheeled towards the river, driving the enemy towards his supports and then advanced on Guadalupe.

The artillery moved to a ridge commanding Pasig and Parteros.

By this time the enemy was in full flight along a line over a mile long, and the firing was discontinued temporarily, in order to give the troops a rest before making the attack on Pasig.

The enemy's loss was believed to be severe; but only eight Americans were wounded.

At this stage of the engagement it was raining heavily.

at the Cast Iron Pipe Plants Under One Management.

Cleveland, March 13.—Colonel Clarence E. Burke, one of the promoters of the cast iron pipe trust, states that the big deal has been consummated, and practically all the pipe foundries in the country are included in the combine, which has been incorporated with a capital of $30,000,000.

The object of the new company, said Colonel Burke, "will not be to advance prices, as we will simply follow the prices of pig iron and be governed by them."

"We shall seek to ship from the nearest foundry to the point of consumption, and will not enter the territory of one foundry with the products of another. None of the plants will be closed down unless the market compels it." General Samuel Thomas will probably be president of the company."

Postoffice Safe Blows Open.

Cleveland, March 13.—The postoffice at Rocky River was entered by burglars, who in their search for money and valuables blew open the safe, and entire front of the building.

They were unsuccessful, however, in finding anything of value. A safe expert who visited the scene says that the combination and handle of the safe had been knocked off with a sledge hammer, a hole was then drilled in the door and explosive inserted.

INSPECTION OF BEEF.

The Court of Inquiry Look Into the Nature of the Same.

FATE OF CONDEMNED MEAT.

rumors that the Article Is Sometimes Taken From the Refuse Tank and Fixed Up and Put on the General Market.

Chicago, March 13.—Edward Tilden, who is treasurer and one of the directors of the Libby McNeill and Libby Packing company, was the first witness called in the army beef investigation.

Referring to the grade of stock reported in the newspapers as "Canners," he said: "I understand that it refers to cheap grade of cattle, but so far the packing houses are concerned it is a misnomer, and does not signify anything." Witness said the aim is to get a uniform class of beef for canning, about a thousand pounds, live weight. Generally, the quarters are used for canning.

Major Lee asked: "Is it not a matter of fact that you can what might be termed the inferior part of the forequarter?"

"No, sir; it is a matter of fact that we can the best part of the forequarters, the chuck."

"Is it not a fact that chucks were sold to the troops at Watertown, N.Y., and other points for 4 cents a pound?"

"If they were, somebody must have been very anxious to dispose of them. The market price would be about 6 cents. The chuck is not by any means the worst part of the carcass; we look upon it as one of the choicest part. In fact the forequarter of the carcass is the only part eaten by an orthodox Jew."

"Major Lee—"Then the price would depend upon the number of Jews in the community?"

"No, sir, not at all."

Dr. O. E. Dyson, who has been an inspector at the stockyards since 1893, was next called. He said his duties were to look after the other inspectors and see that they do their duty. He has 25 to 30 men to look after, and had reported only two in a year for negligence. One came late and the other was intoxicated. An interval, he said, might elapse between the going off and the coming on of an inspector, but "we are supposed to be very strict in regard to that."

"From your observation would it be possible to take out meat from the tank when once thrown in?"

"It would be possible, but I don't think it very probable."

"Have you ever had occasion to believe or suspect that practice existed in any regular packing house?"

"Not within the last four or five years."

"How was it prior to that time?"

"I never had any positive evidence of anything occurring at that time, but I was stationed at a house where probably such a thing was done."

"But you made no investigation or participated in no investigation?"

"No, it was outside of my duty."

Document Will Be Sent.

Washington, March 13.—The report which Chief Inspector Devoe of the bureau of animal industry at Chicago testified before the beef court of inquiry Saturday he had made in 1894 to the agricultural department regarding allegations of the marketing of condemned meat that had been taken out of the tanks of a Chicago packer will be the subject of investigation by the court. Lieutenant-Colonel Davis, the recorder of the court, telegraphed Secretary of Agriculture Wilson asking him to forward a copy of the report, and it was decided to forward the document immediately as confidential.

Commander Booth Is Better.

London, March 13.—Inquiries made regarding the dispatch from Melbourne, Victoria, published in New York, saying General William Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation army, was lying so seriously ill there that his recovery was doubtful; that a dispatch has been received at the headquarters of the Salvation army here from Adelaide, South Australia, saying General Booth has been suffering from dysentery; that he is recovering as rapidly as expected, and he will be able to proceed to New Zealand for the purpose of conducting a Salvation army campaign in that colony.

MASKED MEN.

overpower Employees of a Concern and Blow Open the Safe.

Waverly, N. Y., March 13.—A hold-up in true western bandit style occurred here about 2 a.m.

At that hour 11 masked and armed men entered the power house of the Waverly, Sayre and Athens Traction company and ordering the three employees to hold up their hands, bound them securely and placed them in an empty car, where the workmen were secured by ropes around their necks attached to the handlebar above them. them, the robbers blew open the three safes in the office and secured $175 in cash. Nothing but money was taken. About 4 a.m. one of the men succeeded in freeing his hands and all were quickly set loose. The police were summoned, but there is no clue.

BACK TAXES.

Wapakoneta, O., March 13.—The tax inquisitor for this county has been quite active during the last few months. Many prominent business houses of this city, as well as a number of wealthy farmers, have been compelled to return for taxation money, and property heretofore not reported. Most of the cases have been compromised without suit, several prominent men of this county have recently paid from $3,000 to $5,000 back taxes, and the inquisitor is now after others for as large amounts. At least $100,000 has been turned into the county treasury by this means during the past year.

Crown Prince Hosted.

Christiana, Norway, March 13.—There was a popular demonstration here against Crown Prince Gustaf, Duke of Wormsland, who was recently appointed regent on account of illness of his father, King Oscar II.

The prince was returning from the military club when he met a crowd of people, who hooted him, hissed him and peleted him with snowballs.

The crowd was dispersed by the police, and several arrests were made.

Lost His Head.

New York, March 13.—Samuel Hudnut of Philadelphia, conductor of Blue Line express No. 514 from Philadelphia for Communipaw, was beheaded at Bayonne. The conductor was on the platform of the first car, and as the train approached a bridge, Hudnut leaned outside the platform. He was struck by the bridge and knocked from the platform. His head was severed and one of his legs was cut off by the cars.

Killing of Pinckney.

Charleston, S. C., March 13.—The grand jury began an investigation into the killing of Thomas Pinckney, Jr. The verdict of the coroner's jury that Pinckney was killed "by persons unknown" has not met approval.

Pinckney was killed about three weeks ago, just after he had left the home of a young lady with whom he spent the evening. He was shot near her door.

Sampson Hears the News.

Washington, March 13.—Secretary Long has received a letter from Rear Admiral Sampson, in which the admiral, after referring to the allegations that list of officers recommended for promotion for gallantry off Santiago had failed of confirmation because it included his name, asked the secretary to immediately reappoint these officers, omitting his own name.

A Double Tragedy.

Vancouver, B. C., March 13.—A double tragedy is reported from Nanaimo. Dave Evans shot Libbie White dead and committed suicide in their room at a hotel. Both were public entertainers, Evans being a professional wrestler and Libbie White a singer. Unrequited love is supposed to have been the cause of the tragedy.

Declines the Call.

Nashville, March 13.—Rev. James I. Vance, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, announces that he has declined the call to the First Presbyterian church of Baltimore. This is the second call which Dr. Vance has

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

At a meeting held by the Democratic State Executive Committee in the city of Lexington on March 8th, 1899, it was ordered that a State convention be held in Louisville on Wednesday, June 21st, 1899, for the purpose of nominating Democratic candidates for State officers to be voted for November 7th, 1899, the convention to be called to order at 11 o'clock A. M.

Delegates to said state convention shall be chosen at county mass conventions to be held at the various county courthouses in counties having but one legislative district, of which due notice shall be given by the various County Committees. In counties having more than one legislative district there shall be a convention for each legislative district to be held at some convenient point to be indicated by the Chairman of the Legislative District Committee, who shall advertise in the local papers the location for said convention at least ten days prior to the date fixed by this committee. Said county and legislative district conventions shall be held at 2 o'clock p. m., standard time, on June 17th, 1899. Said conventions shall be called to order by the Chairmen of the respective County or Legislative District Committees.

All known Democrats and others who supported W. J. Bryan for President and those who pledge themselves to support the nominees of said State convention shall be entitled to participate in the county or legislative district conventions.

P. P. JOHNSTON, Chairman.
R. Owen Cochran, Secretary.

The Commercial Tribune's Washington correspondent says the President has at last formulated a Philippine policy. Well, isn't it about time?

A FRANKFORT special says the followers of the Gubernatorial fortunes of Captain W. J. Stone, of Lyon County, are highly elated over the bitter feeling which has developed between the Hardin and Goebel factions. There's a pretty strong tip in this to the Hardin and Goebel crowd to go a little slow.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—It would be difficult to give any conception of the bitterness felt by the friends of Admiral Sampson over the refusal of the Senate to confirm his nomination and promotion over Watson and Schley. Every attempt to blacken the splendid record of Schley has failed and now they sit chewing their nails in wrath.

Well, let 'em chew.

This statement of contrasts doesn't show us up very well in the eyes of the world:

We gave Cuba her liberty and we bought Spanish sovereignty in the Philippines for $20,000,000. Gomez is the second George Washington; Aguinaldo is a traitor. We are sending millions of dollars to the Cuban soldiers to give them a start in life; we are sending millions of cartridges to the Philippines to give their long-suffering inhabitants a free transfer to the happy land. In the Western Hemisphere we are the good Samaritan; in the Eastern Hemisphere we are the iron-handed and heartless oppressor.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Justice Harlan thinks that the State of Kentucky should be divided into two or more Federal districts; that there is too much work in the State for one man to handle.

He expressed this opinion to Judge Walter Evans when he swore in the latter the other day.

The Justice said that the division might subtract a little from the new Judge's dignity, but it would enable him to perform more agreeable duties and not make his labors so arduous.

Judge Evans told the Justice that he had always favored a division of the State into two judicial districts; that he had himself introduced a bill to that effect. There should be no trouble at all in securing this legislation from the next Congress if both Judge Evans and Justice Harlan join in making such a recommendation.

And then Br'er Pugh will be given his reward.

SENATOR CHANDLER ON TRUSTS.

Senator Chandler takes the correct measure of trusts, and spares no words in his denunciation of the combines, although they are the natural outgrowth of the tendencies of his own party. He sounds a note of warning to his fellow-Republicans, and indirectly tells them that the party is doomed to defeat unless it arrays itself on the side of the people. Here is what he says in a signed statement to the New York World:

"That the growth of trusts in this country is destroying all incentives to individual enterprise and putting all power, industrially, in the hands of multi-millionaires.

"Ingenious and industrious men of moderate means, whether manufacturers or traders, are being crushed out by the enormous monopolies. The brightest and best business men in the country are rapidly being forced to become mere salaried employees of corporations with immense capital. The effect of such an industrial system is deteriorating in society as a whole."

"The influences of such aggregations are not only powerful industrially, but omnipotent politically. These enormous combinations of capital control the politics of the country, nominate the candidates, then furnish the means to carry the elections, and later direct all legislation, State and National, and dominate the use of all executive power.

"The principal notion I have is that this condition of affairs should not be allowed to destroy the Republican party. To preserve that party and give it a National victory in 1900, doubtless under the lead of President McKinley, is my great desire.

"Yet I fear that we shall not get such a victory if the party does not promptly take ground in State and National conventions against the enormous trusts and monopolies that are being formed in every direction and in connection with every great industry."

The Financial Chronicle, as well as the World, recently published an estimate of the size of the new trusts, the capital of which amounts to more than one thousand millions of dollars. The men who control these trusts are, it is claimed, principally Republicans.

LIMESTONE CREEK.

In the Pre-glacial Period it Flowed on to the Mouth of the Little Miami River.

"Pre-glacial Drainage in the Vicinity of Cincinnati; Its Relation to the Origin of the Modern Ohio River, and Its Bearing Upon the Question of the Southern Limits of the Ice-Sheet."

The above is the title of a highly interesting article recently contributed by Mr. Gerard Fowke, formerly of this city, and published among the papers of the Scientific Laboratories of Denison University. The following extract gives some idea of the extent of Mr. Fowke's researches:

"For more than sixty miles below the mouth of the Little Miami, the Ohio river flows through a tortuous channel. The dial of a compass fixed on a steamer will, in that distance, make a complete circuit under the needle. Much of the way the outer curves sweep over rocky detritus fallen from rugged hills crowned with precipitous bluffs; opposite these the inner curves flow gently over sandbars bordering terraced bottom lands. The variation in the width of the valley is considerable; at times the upland on one side recedes, and a wide bottom intervenes between its foot and the river; again, the hills approach each other until only a narrow strip of alluvial soil is found.

"For fifty miles above the Little Miami different conditions prevail; the valley is more uniform in breadth, the hills have gentler slopes and more symmetrical contours. The geological formation within this area is identical, all of it lying in the Cincinnati or Hudson river group; measured vertically, there is about one foot of compact blue limestone to ten feet of gray or bluish clay. Such a combination does not readily lend itself to the construction of cliffs by atmospheric erosion; while the close texture of the clay and its extension below surface drainage lines, precludes such disintegration of lower strata as would result in cliffs due to great landslides or the downfall of large masses of rock. The topography above the Little Miami is normal, while the phenomena below that point are quite different from what would be expected. An examination of the region, with a view to learning the reason of this diversity, resulted in some interesting discoveries.

"It must be stated, however, that the work of deciphering the earth-written records has not been fully carried out. Many details are yet to be studied before an accurate map of the ancient drainage can be constructed, or a full explanation given of the causes which led to the establishment of the present water-courses. This work I had hoped to do before offering a paper on the subject; but circumstances have made it necessary that I should present an account of the part that has already been accomplished, and indicate the lines along which further investigations are required.

"It will aid the reader in following the argument, to state at once that the Ohio, as an independent river, had no existence prior to the glacial epoch. Its present course, in so far as it now needs to be considered, was occupied entirely by a succession of unconnected creeks and ravines. There was a col at the eastern limit of Maysville, separating the waters of Cabin Creek and Limestone Creek. The former flowed north and east, and either joined Kinniconick Creek or followed Brush Creek valley into Paint Creek. The waters of Limestone followed their present direction to the mouth of the Little Miami, thence through the broad valley north of Cincinnati and entered the present Mill Creek valley somewhere in the vicinity of Carthage. The drainage to the east and north of this section has not yet been worked out."

A PAPER signed by 500 leading business men of Chicago, pledging support to Carter Harrison in his race for Mayor, made its appearance last week. Among the signers are many prominent Republicans. They make no charges against other candidates, but say that Harrison's fight against the street railroad combines entitles him to the support of the people of Chicago irrespective of party affiliations.

The last will of Harrison Darnall was admitted to record Monday. Mary M. Bateman qualified as executrix, without surety. Appraisers: A. H. Calvert, C. Flanagan and Charles Cook. He made the following bequests: To Charles Darnall, $25; Emma Hiltbrand, $50; Martha McNutt, $100; to Meloena Bateman, $200 and personal property; to Harrison McIntosh, $100. The remainder of the estate is to be divided among above parties in proportion named.

MISS NATALIE SCHENCK of Babylon, L. I., who began an "endless chain" during the war, enriched the coffers of the Red Cross Society by $20,000 thereby. All of that sum, which had its beginning in five letters sent out by an eighteen-year-old girl, was devoted to the purchase of ice and other necessities for the soldiers and sailors. Had the thanks they rendered been treasured up, the Red Cross officials say Miss Schenck would have a monument that is rendered to the memory of few persons.

MR. HARRY PANGBURN, who is a student in Rush Medical College, Chicago, and has been wrestling with the mumps, found himself in a sorry plight Saturday night. His boarding house took fire, and he was compelled to leave his bed and make his escape by climbing along the cornice and making his way to an adjoining building. He lost everything—money, clothes and all he had except the clothes he was wearing at the time. Mr. Pangburn is a son of Dr. Pangburn, of this city, and his friends regret to learn of his misfortune, but will be glad to know he is getting along very well in all his troubles.

MR. AND MRS. J. T. KACKLEY entertained a number of their friends last evening at their hospitable home on Second. Reed Chun and Mr. Flora were greatly enjoyed. Among the guests were Miss Burgle, of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Mills, Mrs. M. C. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Barbour Russell, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cady, Miss Mary Hulett, Miss Jessie Judd, Mrs. T. M. Russell, Miss Little Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Cummings, Mr. A. D. Flora, Miss Lucy Wilson, Misses Bessie and Lealah Martin, Mr. T. Reed Chun, Mr. John C. Kackley, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Marsh, Mr. Clark and Mr. W. G. T. Baker. Miss Anna Martin and Mr. Will Austin furnished delightful music on guitar and mandolin.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recover, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Carpetings for Spring.

We have the exclusive control here of a large manufacturer's output, embracing fully one hundred different patterns in Tapestries, Brussels, Moquettes, Velvets and Ingrain. After long and careful consideration we have adopted this method of Carpet selling for two reasons. First, we can give you a selection in point of quantity, quality and artistic designing the Cincinnati markets cannot rival, an impossibility under other conditions, as we have not the room to carry such an enormous stock as our selection line represents. Secondly, we can sell cheaper, much cheaper, than under the old method, as the factory carries our stock for us, and we need keep no reckoning of profit-clipping, remnants and unpopular patterns. Entering upon this different arrangement in our Carpet business there are three points in which we determine to excel: Private Patterns, High Grade Goods at Low Prices, Carpet Making. Think over what this means. First, you need not cover your floor with hackneyed patterns. On the contrary exclusive and fresh designs are at your disposal. Second, you need pay no more for the best than poorer grades cost elsewhere. Third, when the Carpet-Making is entrusted to us, we will have all Carpets machine-stitched; Bordered Carpets will be faultlessly mitered and sized. No ripped seams, no puckered corners, the cost no more. We solicit your patronage on this basis. Orders can be filled within twenty-four hours. Come in and look over our line.

BOARD OF TRADE.

It Will Meet at the Council Chamber This Evening at 7:30 O'clock—Constitution and By-Laws.

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Board of Trade, it was decided that no admission fee would be charged persons applying for membership before the 1st of April, 1890. After that a fee of $5 will be necessary to gain admission. The annual dues for the purpose of meeting incidental expenses were fixed at $2 per year, payable semi-annually.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this Tuesday evening in the Council Chamber at 7:30 o'clock, at which time the constitution and by-laws which have been prepared for the government of the board will be presented. Let every one who has an interest in this important work and who has given his name for membership be present, and all others of our enterprising citizens, be they merchants, professional men or of any other calling who have the interests of our city at heart, are urged to be present and take membership.

It is only by concert of action that we can expect to accomplish the desired end, that of building up our city in its commercial, industrial, intellectual and social features.

Any citizens having suggestions to offer in matters pertaining to the city's good, let them address same to the Secretary of the Board, Mr. William D. Cochran, and they will have due consideration.

Especially are the young men urged to take a part in the movement which is calculated to build up the interests of the city which they expect to make their future home, and we are sure of the support of the older citizens and business men. The list of committees will be published as soon as possible.

The World's Best

Does not come to us unsought. We hunt after it, and only makers of the highest grade of Clothing and Shoes get our orders.

If you have ever worn a Suit or Overcoat from our house, "you know;" if you have not, try us this spring.

The youngsters are commonly the first in the family that require a new season's outfit. We claim distinctive merit for our line of Children's and Boys' Clothing. You will find prices so modest that it may lead to doubting quality, but we guarantee both.

Our Vestee Suits, ranging from $1.25 to $3.75, are simply elegant. Our Double-Breasted Jacket and Pants Suits, ages 8 to 15, ranging in prices from $1.50 to $4.75, we believe to be the best ever shown for the prices. You will favor yourself and us too by comparing them with those of other houses.

THE PROPER THINGS

for this Spring's good dressers are lightish colored checks and modest plaids, but serges principally in dark blue and black will contend for supremacy, and justly, too. Our Serge Suits (and we have them in all styles) will be found distinctively a "gentleman's" Suit of Clothes.

Knowing that there will be a great demand for Spring Top Coats, we secured a magnificent line of them. We cannot describe them on paper. Come in and look at them.

Our Men's and Boys' Shoes! Look at our Shoe window. It tells the tale.

HECHINGER & CO.

THE LEADERS.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c. a bottle at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store.

PUBLIC FRANCHISES.

They Are Owned by the Government in Most European Countries and Are Operated for the Public.

[New York Journal.]

The British Government has decided to take hold of the telephone system, and has secured a parliamentary vote of $10,000,000 to begin the work in London. It already owns the trunk lines between the various cities of the kingdom, and has been leasing them hitherto to the operating company. It has owned and operated the entire telegraphic system of the country for a generation.

In Germany almost the whole railroad mileage is public property. The cost of the broad-gauge railroads up to 1897 was $2,823,478,889: the gross receipts in that year were $376,399,370, and the operating expenses $215,145,532. The surplus of $161,253,838, gave a return of 6.15 per cent. on the capital invested, the ordinary rate of interest in Germany being less than 3 per cent. The profits of the State railroads pay 40 per cent. of the total expenses of the Prussian Government.

In England and Germany and most other civilized countries the question of intrusting any new function to the public authorities is treated as one to be decided purely on public grounds. If the general interests demand the change that settles it. Any corporation that may happen to be in the way simply has to stand from under.

In America we think first of the corporations. If it occurs to somebody that it might be a good thing for the people of the United States to run their own railroads or telegraphs or telephones, as the people of so many foreign countries do, he is promptly suppressed by the reminder that those enterprises have already been pre-empted by the Vanderbilts, and the Goulds, and the Bells.

The Journal believes that the American people can manage their own affairs as well as any other people in the world, and that when they feel like undertaking new duties for their own benefit there is no more reason why they should be diverted from their purpose by the presence of a corporation in their path than if they were Germans, or Englishmen, or Australians. Private railroad or telephone projectors do not give up their enterprises out of consideration for the companies in possession of the field. Why should the Government?

"Public ownership of public franchises."

"The values created by the community should belong to the community."

MR. GARLAND BULLOCK, formerly of this county, has purchased the Woodward distillery near Lexington for $31,000 cash.

THE Physical Culture Society of West Union to the number of twelve, under the direction of Miss Lucile Calvert formerly of this city, will take part in the entertainment to be given by Kirk's band at North Liberty, O., on March 17th.

The last will of Cynthia Phillips was admitted to record Monday. Albert F. Hull qualified as executor, with D. L. Plummer and A. M. J. Cochran as surety. Appraisers, Isaiah Grigsby, D. L. Plummer and Samuel Lyons. She bequeathed her estate to her grandchildren, W. G., Edwin C. and Paul D. Phillips.

River News.

Queen City for Pittsburg to-night and Urania up for Pomeroy.

The L. and N. is the purchaser of the Will J. Cummings. She will be run on the Tennessee or Cumberland river as a feeder for the road.

The lighthouse tender Golden Rod is at her anchorage at Cincinnati with her officers all well and anxious to start out on her quarterly voyage.

Engineer Will Ketchum says the new City of Pittsburgh will be one of the fastest steamboats on the Ohio river, as everything about her is as near perfection as modern science and mechanism can make it. The water supply will go into the Scotch marine boilers perfectly clear, as she is supplied with a thorough system of filters.

A STUDY IN ORNITHOLOGY.

Colonel S. R. Brooks. Formerly of this City, has a very fine collection of birds at Harrodsburg.

The Harrodsburg Democrat contains the following about a former Maysville:

"Mr. S. R. Brooks, the genial proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, has a collection of birds that is attracting no little attention. In the hack yard at the hotel he has recently had erected a house about 20 by 50 feet in dimensions, with a lower and upper floor. The building is nicely covered with shingles and surrounded by woven wire. This building contains some of the finest specimens of birds and also several guinea pigs. Guinea pigs are small rodents, smaller somewhat than rabbits, but much like them in form, though decidedly different in color, being as white as snow. Mr. Brooks has ten or fifteen species of pigeons, which cost him $5 to $10 a pair. The entire collection cost over $200, and is a source of considerable interest to those wishing to become more conversant with ornithology."

For the Farmer.

E. P. Claybrook, of Bonbon, recently bought twenty-five yearling steers at $29 each.

At Richmond last court day several hundred steers brought as high as 6½ cents a pound.

J. C. Caldwell, of Boyle County, sold to Anderson & Spilman, Danville millers, his growing wheat crop at 60 cents per bushel. He has 700 acres.

Warren Stoner, of Mt. Sterling, has sold his Missouri farm, containing 2,800 acres of land, to Swift & Co., the pork people of Chicago, for $85,000 cash.

Ladies' Meeting.

The ladies of Maysville are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday, March 15th.

The purpose of this meeting will be to consider matters dear to the heart of every citizen of Maysville. No pledge or promise of any kind will be asked of any lady present. Let every one who has a desire to benefit the city and community be present. Young ladies as well as mothers are earnestly requested to attend.

Let Justice be Done.

[McCook, Neb., Tribune.]

Last week some of the scores on my chickens were not correctly published. The cockerel winning first should have been 92½ instead of 91. The first pullet scored 93. There was no mention of first hen, but I possess first prize; its score was 92½. Now, according to a ruling made after the show was over, I am a much favored person in receiving anything on cock or cockerel. We were informed that if we paid additional fees, we might enter the birds already entered in pens in the single competition. I was allowed my premiums on birds entered in that way and Mrs. Penny, whose cock tied with Mrs. Taylor's, was allowed nothing. Unless Mrs. Penny is entitled to a first or second prize on her cock, I am entitled to nothing on cock or cockerel. I want no favors, but strict justice. In case of ties in scoring I believe the judge usually decides. Mrs. Penny paid her single entry fee and we Light Brahma breeders are all somewhat indebted to her so we should insist that she get her dues.

How many men and young women are cut off just as the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

A Move in the Interest of Good Roads.

[Exchange.]

A long step was taken in the direction of good roads for Minnesota when the "Potter Roads and Bridges Bill" was passed. This bill places the supervision of roads and bridge work in counties of over 200,000 population with the County Surveyor, and it makes him responsible for it. This can not fail to insure more careful and uniform work on roads, and more exact data regarding bridges. The bill does not call for the expenditure of more money, but for a more systematic expenditure and for a better system of oversight. Under the old law the supervisors of each township had the care of this work, with the result that there was no uniformity of work. The passage of the new law is hailed with delight by those interested in the "good roads" movement.
